

Maritime Trip Day 16 September 07, 2010 68 degrees F, cloudy

Luckily, the hot water was back on at the campground! After breakfast in the campers, we got gas and were on the road at 9:50 AM. There is a light drizzle and the temperature has dropped to 64°. We took the back roads through small towns to get to Prince Edward Island (PEI). Tons of lush landscapes with many winding rivers. The soil looks like red clay. We found the KOA at 12:30 and checked in then asked about a good lunch place. Sam's was the recommendation. I would rate it as "just OK".

We went on to Charlottetown to get a rental car. There is a lot to see and do here and moving around in the campers did not seem like the prudent thing to do! We stopped at the Holland College Culinary Institute of Canada to make a reservation for tomorrow's dinner. Norm & Barb Soy told us to eat there.

After a stop at the Visitor's Center we headed over to the Rodd Charlottetown Hotel for tea and desserts—except Lorene had soup! The hotel was built by the Canadian National Railways back around 1885. It has been visited by England's Queen Elizabeth several times!

Back at the KOA for an evening of laundry and early to bed!
